

SUBJECTS

6,000 BUYERS TOUR TOY FAIR EXHIBITS

More than 6,000 retail buyers of a wide variety of imports have visited the International Toy and Trade Fair in the last four days. The exhibit, at the New York Hilton Hotel, will be open until tomorrow.

CONTINUE READING: PDF

PUBLISH DATE
March 12, 1964

PAGE NUMBER
51

SUBJECTS
Toys And Playthings

SHARE

- EMAIL
- FACEBOOK
- TWITTER
- PERMALINK

BUY

- PAGE REPRINT

onic Society and the era. is been president of berg since 1950, and it ng his tenure that the ent nationalized the 's share in the great iron ore fields in the circle for $200 million. Waldenström used the to develop a new steel t Oxelösund, a small Coast town 60 miles Stockholm, and to in- the Liberian iron ore sing world trade from highly trade-oriented Mr. Waldenström said he had been alarmed t indications of pro- n within the European Market, he was opti- hat progress could be toward freer world vital factor," he said. ing confidence on both the Atlantic that the of across-the-board tar- , which has worked so hin the European Eco- munity and the Eu- free Trade Association, be applied on an in- al scale through the round negotiations [in

6,000 BUYERS TOUR TOY FAIR EXHIBITS

More than 6,000 retail buyers of a wide variety of imports have visited the International Toy and Trade Fair in the last four days. The exhibit, at the New York Hilton Hotel, will be open until tomorrow.

Among the products on display, in addition to toys, are bicycles, ornaments, hardware, gifts, and books. Merchandise from 30 foreign countries is being shown by American importers, official government agencies and private companies overseas.

Combined exhibits of products from Italy and West Germany attracted attention. Some foreign manufacturers, such as Lesney Products & Co., Ltd., of Britain, producer of Matchbox model cars, presented extensive displays.

One exhibitor, the Traveler Trading Company of New York, showed miniature American flags that were made in Japan. Block Lito, Ltd, of Richmond displayed replicas of Remington pistols manufactured in Britain.

Senate Panel Retail Pricing

WASHINGTON (AP)—A bill for "quality stabilization" that would trademark and require owners to fix retail price levels was approved today by a Senate subcommittee.

Senator Vance, Democrat of Indiana, chairman of the subcommittee, refused to make public the text of the four-member panel's report. He has supported the measure in the past, and it reached the full committee today.

The measure has been proposed by antitrust legislation of the Department of Justice. President Johnson has vetoed count stores.

Opponents of the measure tend it is a price-fixing measure intended to override decisions of the Supreme Court and numerous state supreme courts.

A similar bill has been introduced by a House subcommittee but has been stalled in the House Rules Committee.